

Green Bay

Educational Opportunities

The Green Bay Area School District provides City and surrounding communities with quality education. The district operates high schools, middle schools, and elementary schools located among the City neighborhoods and in our downtown. Children participate in academic studies, arts and sports.

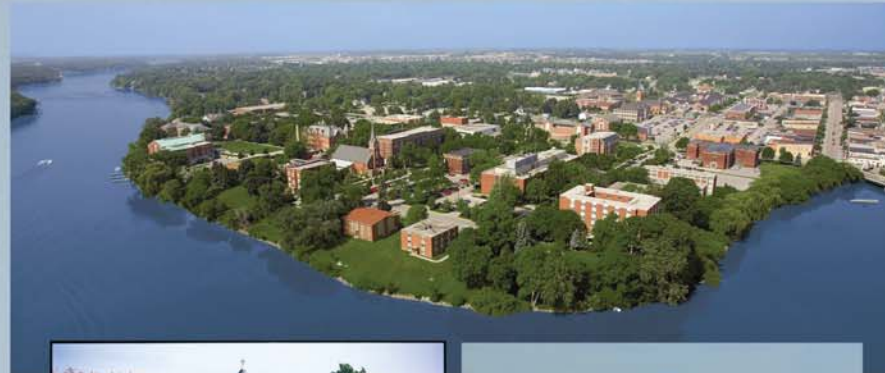

The University of Wisconsin operates a four-year university in Green Bay. The 727 acres sprawling complex is located along the shores of the Bay of Green Bay on the City's northeast side.

On the far west side of the City, Northeast Wisconsin Technical College, a Servicemembers Opportunity College, offers two-year degrees and adult education (including DANTEs and veterans services) to 40,000 people each year. The campus occupies 192 acres.

St. Norbert College, located in De Pere, WI along the Fox River, is a Catholic Norbertine liberal arts college known for its academic excellence, focus on international awareness and leadership and service opportunities. St. Norbert College provides an education that is academically, personally and spiritually challenging.

Come see us! It's All Here!

Quality Education

UWGB

St. Norbert College

East and West High Schools

NWTC

Find out more about us at www.green-bay.org

"Educating young people is one of society's most important tasks, and there's no better place to do it than the community of Green Bay, where every child is valued. All Learning. All Growing."

--Nancy Croy, Principal, Lombardi Middle School