Green Bay Neighborhoods

Every city in America needs a strong downtown, but it also needs strong neighborhoods. Green Bay is proud of its neighborhoods and the people who make them come alive. Dozens of neighborhood associations are spread throughout the City. Laid out on a map, it's a patchwork quilt, with each association working hard to better its corner of the world and to keep their neighborhood safe and clean. Our neighborhoods are key to the stability of our City and we are proud that they are one of our greatest strengths as a community.

"Those who are born in Green Bay and those who move to Green Bay have one great thing in common - they are happy and never want to leave."

- Guy Zima, Longest serving Green Bay Alderman
